Eskay's Food sustained this 96 year old lady, (Mrs. Amelia O'Keeffe, Philadelphia, Pa.) through a very critical illness.

(Read interesting letter on other side from her physician.)

TO OLD AGE.

OVER

Pictures of a few Healthy, Happy Babies shown on back of this folder, prove the value of ESKAY'S FOOD.

The following letters selected from thousands are strong enough to convince the most skeptical that this FOOD has all the merits claimed for it.

Rev. E. S. FERRY, Pastor M. E. Church, West Winsted, Conn., writes:—

"We have used ESKAY'S FOOD now about a month. It is the most satisfactory substitute for mother's milk we have tried, and in the care of five children we have tried about everything. It agreed with our baby's delicate stomach at once. She grows, is the picture of health, has well-regulated bowels, sleeps all night, though not yet six months old. My brother had used it with similar success after every other food had failed to nourish their baby; he recommended it to us.

"I have spoken of it to our physician. I learned yesterday that our neighbor, a dying man of eighty years, who could not retain other food did retain ESKAY'S. I am glad to say a good word for this food and to aid in 'pushing it along.'"

Dr. ——— writes:—"I can honestly say that my experience with ESKAY'S FOOD in cases of mal-nutrition in infants has been eminently satisfactory. I recall one case in particular:—The Mrs. H. B. Peterson child at birth was one of the most beautiful and finely developed that I have ever seen, weighing at least ten pounds. One month after its birth I was called to see it, and to my surprise found a puny, skinny baby, weighing perhaps seven or eight pounds, resembling a child suffering from Cholera Infantum.

"I then learned that the mother's milk had given out at the end of the second week and upon the suggestion of the nurse they had been feeding it upon Condensed Milk. There had been a steady loss of flesh and at this time there was an inability to retain any food on the stomach, also diarrhoea. I immediately stopped the Condensed Milk and for three or four days tried other things in connection with the indicated medical treatment, but without good results. I came to the conclusion that a few hours would end the struggle.

"On Saturday night I determined to use ESKAY'S FOOD at long intervals. Sunday evening, extreme prostration; I did not think the child could live through the night. Monday reported a better night, food well retained, apparent improvement. Tuesday: marked improvement. Wednesday: astonished at the rapid gain in the case, in appearance, flesh and strength.

"To-day that baby is the subject of remark in the neighborhood, owing to its size and healthy appearance."

Puny, Cross and Irritable Babies are Unhealthy.

This is usually caused by giving them a food unsuited to their little systems, and which can not be properly utilized to make strong, well-developed bones and firm muscles. ESKAY'S FOOD combines animal ingredient (egg albumen) with cereals, and this combination furnishes perfect nourishment.

"My wife being delicate, we were forced to raise (or attempt to raise) the baby 'on the bottle' with Condensed Milk. The Condensed Milk alone not agreeing with the child, I purchased first one and then another of the leading foods, neither of which could be retained on the stomach. The doctor said the child could not live; neither did my wife nor myself think he could live.

"That evening I strolled into the store of a nearby druggist (who is also a practicing physician), and after I had described to him the condition of the child, he handed me a box of ESKAY'S FOOD, with the remark, 'if anything will stay on his stomach, that will.' I went directly home, had my wife prepare some for the baby, although I thought it not worth while as the child appeared so far gone.

"To our very great and agreeable surprise, the child began to improve, and has continued to do so, and at this time there is not I believe, a healthier child both in looks and actions than our little boy, and I believe his present condition is the result principally of ESKAY'S ALBUMENIZED FOOD."

H. WARREN SADLER.

Mrs. J. E. BROWNLEE, Davenport, Iowa, writes:—"My twenty-two months old baby is a strong, healthy little girl; but when the warm weather came, her appetite failed and she would take no nourishing food. Finally I decided to try ESKAY'S FOOD, as I had heard it so highly spoken of, and we are well pleased with the result. Baby calls it her 'cocoa' and takes it with a relish."

Mr. CHARLES F. CHAUVIN, Boston, Mass., writes:—"The second day's trial brought color to the little baby face, and she had no trouble in retaining the Food upon her stomach. She thrived and fattened, and we knew by trying ESKAY'S, we had struck the key-note to baby's health. She had previously worried along on two other well-known foods, but ESKAY'S FOOD brought happiness for baby and parents."

Growing Children made to Look the Picture of Health.

Dangerous effects of eating cheap candy overcome by the use of ESKAY'S FOOD.

WM. JOHN LEWIS, Wilkes Barre, Pa., a prominent professional trained nurse, writes:— "My two school children, girls, one aged ten years, and the other eight years, had no appetite and had to be coaxed to take their breakfast every morning before going to school; each was given a breakfast cup full of ESKAY'S FOOD every morning and another at mid-day, and they now enjoy their breakfast, and do not come home indisposed and peevish, but sit down to their meals cheerfully, and look the picture of health."

"Our small girls have ESKAY'S FOOD every day for lunch and continue to enjoy it heartily.

"It has been a great help to them, and they have gained greatly," writes MRS. F. B. GREENAWALT.

Jersey City, N. J.

"Our twelve year old girl, whose stomach had never recovered its tone since she had inflammation of the lining of the stomach (caused by eating cheap candy) and who had never been free from dyspeptic attacks, in which distressing headaches were the worst feature, has been taking two teaspoonfuls of ESKAY'S FOOD daily, and is already much improved.

"I am firmly convinced of the merits of your Food, and will continue its use."

West Philada., Pa.

A. V. HOLBROOK.

"I made a visit to London, Canada, where some of my relatives live, and on arrival found a niece of mine (a young lady of eighteen summers) critically ill with succession of hemorrhages. After a consultation of Doctors, the attending physician gave the family little or no encouragement of her recovery, and the family seemed to have little hope of a favorable change. I suggested ESKAY'S FOOD.

"The Doctor examined the Food, read the testimonials and ordered its use. The girl commenced to improve the next day, and when I left (the following Sunday) she had been pronounced out of danger, and I think your ESKAY'S FOOD did the work."—Extract letter from THOS. Adults Suffering from Disordered Digestion or Convalescing from Disease, find ESKAY'S FOOD palatable, furnishing perfect nutrition in a form requiring little or no effort on the part of the stomach to digest and assimilate. ESKAY'S FOOD is retained by the weakest and most irritable stomachs.

Mrs. H———, Bloomfield, N. J., writes as follows:—
"My father (Dr. S. of Brooklyn) wrote you for samples of ESKAY'S FOOD to try as an experiment on one of the most obstinately dyspeptic stomachs he has had to deal with, namely my own. I have not only what doctors term a nervous dyspepsia, but intestinal disturbances, and your Food is working so admirably that I should not hesitate to suggest its use to any similar sufferer with whom I may come in contact."

Mrs. D. M. SIMPSON, Phila., Pa., says:—"For some time I have been suffering with stomach and liver trouble and have been unable to retain anything on my stomach after eating, so irritable had it become. The doctor suggested that I make use of ESKAY'S ALBUMENIZED FOOD, and you will be glad to hear that this is the only Food which I have been able to retain on my stomach for a very long time."

"I can most heartily recommend ESKAY'S FOOD in cases of convalescence from typhoid fever, having fairly tested it by giving it to my son during his recovery. Its results were most gratifying, and he was not only supplied with the necessary amount of nutrition, but was strengthened and invigorated so that his recovery was prompt and highly satisfactory."

Phila., Pa.

MRS. D. HOFHEIMER.

"I relish ESKAY'S FOOD the best of any Food I have ever tried since I have been on diet for Gastritis. It is delicious and satisfying, and I can live on it without any other nourishment and feel strong and contented.

"For two years I lived on milk alone, but grew weak and emaciated, and was always hungry. I can use ESKAY'S FOOD even when I am in pain and sore after attacks of vomiting."

Hammond, La.

MRS. COTTRELL.

In Debility and Old Age ESKAY'S FOOD is Very Nourishing.

It fortifies and sustains the system, besides furnishing an agreeable and appetizing article of diet.

"I am long past the prime of life, and for the last five years have been losing strength and flesh for want of proper nourishment. My condition at length became such that life was a burden.

"The merits and virtues of your ESKAY'S FOOD as a food for infants were presented to me and I was convinced of its value. This led me to reason if it is of such merit for infants of tender age—who do not thrive on other foods—why is it not good for old babies who suffer from the same cause? Acting upon this thought I commenced to use the FOOD, and the results after a little time surprised me. I began to improve, and I have steadily gained in strength and general health, until at the present time I feel like a new man.

"No one suffering from the want of proper nourishment, should lose a moment, but commence the use of ESKAY'S FOOD without delay, as I believe its daily use will restore health and vigor to many despairing ones."

Brooklyn, N. Y.

R. A. SEELEY.

Mrs. O'KEEFFE'S physician writes:—"Mrs. O'Keeffe, 96 years of age, found your ESKAY'S ALBUMENIZED FOOD sustained her through a very critical illness of late. She was unable to retain nourishment of any kind on her stomach, and her bowels were also very irritable, until she resorted to ESKAY'S FOOD. It has proven palatable to her, very easily retained and nourishing, and from the time she began taking it no further trouble was experienced with irritability of the stomach or bowels.

"Its use, I feel confident in saying, contributed very much to restoration of her usual health. She is still using it."

Gentlemen:—

Bainbridge, Pa.

"I am well pleased with my first trial of ESKAY'S ALBUMENIZED FOOD in the case of a lady aged 96 years, whose existence demands a super-heated room and the daily use of hot water bags.

"Thinking of the samples of ESKAY'S ALBUMENIZED FOOD you sent me, I placed her upon this preparation which at once agreed with her and which she pronounced agreeable to her taste. In short, this old lady, dressed by her nurse at 10 a.m., goes again daily to the dining room for her dinner and supper, and seems to have gained a new lease on life."
